President's Message

It gives me great pleasure to convey my message for the fourth edition of JU Alma Konnect. Our alumni are the true ambassadors of Jagan Nath University, reflecting its values and excellence through their achievements and contributions to society.

The University continues to progress with its vision of quality education, innovation, skill development, and holistic growth, guided by the principles of NEP 2020. The NAAC 'A' Grade accreditation and ICAR recognition stand as testimony to our commitment to academic excellence. Alma Konnect serves as a meaningful platform to strengthen our bond with alumni and celebrate their success stories.

As we continue to expand academically and technologically, our alumni remain our most valued ambassadors. Their involvement, mentorship, and support are invaluable in guiding our current students and strengthening the University's vision for the future.

I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the Editorial Team and contributors for bringing out the fourth edition of JU Alma Konnect. I also convey my best wishes to all our alumni for continued success, happiness, and professional excellence. May you always remain connected with your alma mater and contribute towards its growth and legacy.

Prof. (Dr.) H.L.Verma
President,
Jagan Nath University, Jaipur

Message from the Pro-President

As we journey through the dynamic landscape of higher education incorporating NEP 2020 features, the importance of our alumni becomes increasingly apparent. Each one of you holds a piece of the Jagannath University, Jaipur and together, we have the power to shape its future.

Jagannath University, Jaipur is on its way of excellence as it is not a destination but the journey itself. The focus more is on holistic development through skill enhancement, community engagement, simulations and real time exposures, encouraging students to identify or unleash their potential by becoming member of various clubs.

Whether you graduated last year or decades ago, your connection to Jagannath University is lasting. Let us together harness that connection and channel it into meaningful action as much as possible. There are countless ways for you to get involved and make a difference, whether you volunteer your time, share your expertise, mentor current students, or contribute financially, your support is invaluable.

We, at Jagannath University welcome you always with open heart and open arms. I congratulate Dean Alumni and her team to keeping you connected with University know how through this magazine.

I wish each one of you the best for all your future endeavors.

Message from the Pro-President

Dear Esteemed Alumni,
Warm greetings from your alma mater!

It gives me immense pleasure to connect with you through this special edition of our Alma Mater magazine. The journey of our institution is enriched not only by the achievements of our faculty and students but also by the remarkable contributions of our alumni. You are the living ambassadors of our values, vision, and excellence, and we are truly proud of each one of you.

The session 2023 has been a year of progress, transformation, and innovation at our university. We have embraced new technologies, expanded our academic and research collaborations, and continued our commitment to holistic education. Your continued support and engagement with your alma mater inspire us to aim higher and achieve more.

As you flourish in your personal and professional lives, I urge you to remain connected with the university. Your insights, mentorship, and participation in institutional development are invaluable. We welcome you to contribute in various ways – through guest lectures, collaborative projects, student mentoring, or simply sharing your journey.

Let us work together to strengthen this vibrant alumni network and build a legacy that future generations will cherish.

With warm regards and best wishes for your continued success,
With Best Regards

Alumni Interview

Dr. Banwari khatik
Physiotherapy (2018-2022)

Question : We're thrilled to have you here to share your experiences . Could you start by telling us a bit about yourself and your journey since you graduated?

It's great to be back. My name is Dr. Banwari khatik , and I graduated from Jagannath University in 2022 . After completing my degree in Physiotherapy, I joined shree balaji Neuro rehabilitation centre , Bhilwara Rajasthan. ,where I have been working as a chief physiotherapist. Over the past few years, I've had the opportunity to work with a diverse range of patients and conditions, which has been incredibly rewarding.

Question: That sounds fantastic! What inspired you to choose a career in physiotherapy?

I've always been passionate about helping others and promoting physical health. During my high school years, I was actively involved in sports and witnessed firsthand the impact that injuries can have on athletes. This picked my interest in physiotherapy as a way to help people recover and regain their mobility. The ability to make a tangible difference in someone's quality of life is truely motivated me.

Question: What is one of the most rewarding aspects of being a physiotherapist?

One of the most rewarding aspects is seeing the progress in my patients. When someone comes in with severe pain or limited mobility and, over time, they're able to return to activities they love—whether it's playing sports, walking without a limp, or just feeling more energetic—that's incredibly fulfilling. Helping people regain independence and improve their quality of life is what motivates me every day.

Question: For someone considering a career in physiotherapy, what advice would you give ?

First and foremost, I'd say be prepared for continuous learning. Physiotherapy is a dynamic field that evolves quickly, so staying up-to-date with the latest research and treatment techniques is essential. You also need to have strong interpersonal skills. You'll be working closely with people in pain or recovery, so patience, empathy, and clear communication are key to building trust and getting results. And lastly, be patient with your own development. It takes time to become proficient in all the skills you need, so focus on gradually building your expertise and experience.

Interviewer: Thank you so much for your insights. It's been a pleasure learning more about your work and the field of physiotherapy.

Thank you! It was my pleasure to share. I hope this helps people understand the value of physiotherapy and the important role we play in healthcare. This interview highlights some of the key elements of a physiotherapist's role, the common conditions they treat, and how they approach patient care, along with the evolving nature of the profession.

Krishna Tulsani

BBA (2021-24)

Interviewer: What was your overall experience like during your BBA program?

Krishna: My experience was really enriching. I chose Jagannath University because of its reputation for practical learning and industry exposure, and it lived up to my expectations. The faculty was supportive, and the curriculum was well-structured. We had a good mix of theoretical knowledge and real-world applications through projects, internships, and industry interactions. The campus environment was also very vibrant.

Interviewer: Could you highlight some specific aspects of the program that you found particularly beneficial?

Anika: Definitely. The case studies and presentations were crucial in developing my communication skills. The industry visits and guest lectures gave us valuable insights into the corporate world. Also, the university's focus on soft skills development, was crucial.

Interviewer: What was your area of specialization or interest within the BBA program?

Krishna: I was particularly interested in Marketing. I feel the faculty was very well versed in the current marketing trends.

Interviewer: How did Jagannath University help you in your career journey?

Krishna: The university's career development cell was very helpful. They provided guidance on resume building, interview preparation, and networking. They also organized campus placements, which gave us access to various companies. The internships that were provided during the BBA also helped build my resume.

Interviewer: Looking back, is there anything you would have done differently during your time at university?

Krishna: I had participated in extracurricular activities. I focused mainly on academics, but I know the importance of extracurricular activities, they can contribute significantly to personal and professional development. But overall, I am very happy with my university experience.

Interviewer: What advice would you give to current BBA students at Jagannath University?

Krishna: My advice would be to take full advantage of the opportunities provided by the university. Engage actively in class discussions, participate in projects, and network with faculty and industry professionals. Don't be afraid to ask questions and seek guidance. And most importantly, enjoy the learning process.

Dr.Astha Singh Physiotherapy (2021-2023)

Dr.Astha Singh,a dynamic and young Sports and Musculoskeletal Physiotherapist based in Gurugram, Haryana , has become a name to reckon with in the field of physiotherapy. With a passion for helping athletes and individuals recover from injuries, she has established herself as an expert in ACL injuries and shoulder rehabilitation, gaining recognition both nationally and globally.

Dr.Astha Singh's educational journey laid the foundation for her success. She completed her Bachelor's in Physiotherapy from NIMS University and then pursued a Master's in Sports and Musculoskeletal Physiotherapy from Jagannath University,Jaipur. This strong academic background gave her the knowledge and skills needed to specialize in treating complex musculoskeletal injuries, particularly those related to the shoulder and knee.

She recently completed a London Shoulder Clinic Certified Practitioner course under the mentorship of the internationally renowned Dr. Jeremy Lewis, a global authority in shoulder rehabilitation. This certification has further strengthened her practice, placing her at the forefront of shoulder injury management on a global scale.

Today, Dr. Astha Singh's name is synonymous with ACL recovery and shoulder rehabilitation. Her success story continues to inspire both patients and fellow physiotherapists as she makes a lasting impact on the field of sports and musculoskeletal physiotherapy. Her holistic approach to patient care and her dedication to helping athletes return to their best form is shaping the future of sports physiotherapy in India.

Anupam Kumari

Agriculture (2018-2022)

The remarkable journey of Ms. Anupam Kumari from an enthusiastic agriculture student to a successful Agri Entrepreneur Mentor (AEM) at Syngenta Foundation India & Agri Entrepreneur Growth Foundation stands as an inspiring example of dedication, perseverance, and purpose-driven learning.

Based in Patna, Bihar, Anupam plays a pivotal role in empowering young agri-entrepreneurs, driving sustainable agricultural practices, and fostering innovation at the grassroots level. With a commendable CTC of 7.2 LPA, her professional accomplishments reflect not only excellence in her field but also a deep commitment to rural development and social upliftment.

Anupam attributes her success to the strong academic foundation and nurturing environment provided by Jagannath University. During her years in the Faculty of Agriculture, she embraced a learning journey that blended theory with practice — gaining exposure through field visits, research projects, and real-world applications. The university's focus on experiential learning, practical training, and innovation-oriented education helped her develop a holistic understanding of modern agriculture and its challenges.

Today, as a mentor and changemaker, Ms. Anupam Kumari continues to uphold the values instilled by her alma mater — dedication, innovation, and service to society. Her journey is a shining example for students who aspire to make a meaningful difference in their communities through knowledge, hard work, and compassion.

She proudly acknowledges that Jagannath University was the platform where her dreams took shape, and she remains ever grateful to be a part of an institution that continues to nurture visionaries and leaders in the field of agriculture and beyond.

Harsh Goel

Agriculture (2018-2022)

Harsh, an alumnus of Jagan Nath University, is now a successful entrepreneur and Managing Director of AgroBeesFarm, a thriving nursery business. With an annual turnover of ₹12–15 lakh, his venture stands as a testament to his dedication and expertise in agriculture. Harsh specializes in high-quality nursery plants and sustainable farming solutions, catering to a growing clientele across the region. Reflecting on his journey, Harsh credits his time at Jagan Nath University's Faculty of Agriculture for his success. The university's comprehensive curriculum, practical training, and mentorship by expert faculty provided him with the skills and confidence to turn his passion into a profitable business. The hands-on exposure to agricultural practices and entrepreneurial insights during his B.Sc. program laid the groundwork for AgroBeesFarm. Harsh's story inspires aspiring agriculturists to dream big and achieve success through dedication and innovation. Harsh attributes much of his success to his academic foundation at Jagan Nath University, where he pursued a B.Sc. in Agriculture. The practical training, industry exposure, and mentorship he received at the university were instrumental in shaping his vision and skills. By combining his academic learnings with his entrepreneurial spirit, Harsh has built a business that promotes sustainable agriculture and contributes to the green economy.

Moharpal Singh BBA (2013-16)

"My journey from a BBA at Jagannath University to running my own readymade garment business wasn't exactly a straight line, but every step along the way contributed to where I am today. People often ask me, 'Why garments?' and honestly, it started with a simple observation: Jaipur has a rich textile heritage, and I saw a gap in the market for stylish, affordable, and locally-made clothing.

My BBA gave me the foundation I needed to understand the business side of things. I remember those late-night sessions studying marketing principles, analyzing supply chains, and learning about financial management – all of that became incredibly relevant when I started my own venture. I might not have been designing clothes in class, but I was learning how to build a brand, manage inventory, and understand consumer behavior.

One of the most valuable things I learned at Jagannath was how to adapt and problem-solve. When you're running your own business, especially a startup, you face challenges every day. Those group projects that seemed so tedious at the time? They taught me how to collaborate, negotiate, and work under pressure.

The university also emphasized the importance of networking. The connections I made with professors and fellow students proved invaluable when I was sourcing materials and finding suppliers. I even partnered with a classmate who had a background in design, and we launched our first collection together.

Of course, there were plenty of hurdles along the way. Learning the intricacies of the garment industry, dealing with fluctuating fabric prices, and managing a team – it was a steep learning curve. But I was passionate about what I was doing, and I had the business acumen to navigate the challenges.

My business started small, with a few sewing machines and a lot of determination. We focused on creating unique designs that reflected Jaipur's vibrant culture, and we prioritized quality and affordability. Word of mouth spread, and we gradually expanded our operations.

Looking back, I realize how much my BBA prepared me for this journey. It wasn't just about the textbooks; it was about the critical thinking skills, the business acumen, and the entrepreneurial spirit that Jagannath University instilled in me. I'm proud to be a Jaipur entrepreneur, and I'm grateful for the foundation I received at Jagannath University."

Rishi Ranjan

MBA (2019-2021)

"Looking back, my time at Jagannath University's MBA program feels like an important chapter in my life. I came in with a drive to succeed, but the university gave me the tools and the perspective to really make that happen.

What truly stood out was the program's focus on practical application. It wasn't just about memorizing theories; it was about understanding how those theories played out in the real world. The case studies, the simulations – they forced us to think critically and strategically. I remember a particularly challenging project on international market entry that really pushed me, but it also taught me so much about navigating complex business landscapes.

The faculty was incredible. They weren't just lecturers; they were mentors. One professor, in particular, who had years of experience in international trade, really took me under his wing. He shared his insights, connected me with industry contacts, and really helped me shape my career aspirations.

And the network! Jagannath University's alumni network is a powerful asset. I connected with professionals from all walks of life, and those connections proved invaluable when I was starting my career.

The university also fostered an entrepreneurial spirit. We were encouraged to think outside the box, to challenge conventional wisdom. I participated in a few business plan competitions, which were intense but incredibly rewarding. They taught me how to develop and pitch a business idea, a skill that's been crucial in my career.

When I landed my first job at a multinational export company, I felt prepared. The MBA program had given me the analytical, strategic, and communication skills I needed to succeed. And as I progressed in my career, and eventually started my own consulting firm, I realized just how much I owed to Jagannath University.

It wasn't just about the academics; it was about the overall experience. The vibrant campus life, the diverse student body, the supportive faculty – it all contributed to my personal and professional growth. Jagannath University gave me the confidence and the foundation to pursue my dreams, and for that, I'll always be grateful."

Abhishek Narayan
Law (2021-22)
Legal Officer
(Dept. Of Health & Medical Welfare)
Jodhpur

Contribution towards the society:

Law has been and always will be an integral part of a law student's life. If we closely look, law is everywhere. As a lawyer, I'm not only providing my services professionally but by using my knowledge of law diligently, also helping and advising those who are either having trouble in understanding any kind of legal matters, making people aware about their rights and responsibilities towards society, empowering them to navigate the often-confusing legal system, helping them with the art of defense. I believe that every lawyer when he chooses law as a career option becomes a public servant (not just by a job post but by psychological approach towards this career), and according to my principles I've been doing it for past 7 years.

Experience of Jagan Nath University:

I feel proud to say that I've completed my post-graduation from Jagannath University. The university has helped me grow professionally as well as personally, and helped me with the holistic development. The professor's and other faculty members of the university are very helpful and make students feel comfortable and easy going. Other than the academics the hostel facilities are also very good and the staff has helped me with everything needed whenever I came for my exams.

ALUMNI EXPERIENCE

Ritika Dubey Assistant Professor Integrated B.Tech, M.Tech (CS) (2008-2013)

As I look back on my journey at Jagannath University, I am filled with deep gratitude and an overwhelming sense of pride for being a part of such a nurturing and visionary institution. The years I spent here were not merely about academic learning; they were about discovering myself, shaping my ambitions, and building a foundation for a purposeful life and career.

The University offered an environment where ideas were encouraged, innovation was celebrated, and learning extended far beyond the classroom walls. From thought-provoking lectures and collaborative projects to cultural events and campus interactions, every moment contributed to my holistic growth. Those years taught me to balance knowledge with humility, ambition with ethics, and success with responsibility. The dedicated faculty members played a pivotal role in my transformation. Their constant encouragement, mentorship, and commitment to excellence inspired me to challenge my limits and strive for continuous improvement. The friendships and connections built during that time have turned into lifelong bonds that still support and motivate me in my professional journey as an educator.

Jagannath University will always remain my second home — a place that nurtured my dreams, celebrated my milestones, and molded me into who I am today. I carry its legacy with pride and remain committed to giving back in any way possible — whether through mentorship, collaboration, or contribution to the academic community.

I will forever cherish the experiences, the friendships, and the guidance that defined my journey as a proud alumna of Jagannath University.

ALUMNI EXPERIENCE

Shivam Kumar Agriculture (2018-2022)

I am grateful to have been a part of Jagan Nath University, where I pursued my B.Sc. in Agriculture under the Faculty of Agriculture. My time at the university was truly enriching, shaping my academic and professional journey. The university provided a holistic learning environment, blending theoretical knowledge with practical exposure. The well-equipped laboratories, experienced faculty, and research-oriented curriculum helped me develop a strong foundation in agricultural sciences. I particularly appreciated the experimental farm visits, hands-on training, and fieldwork, which enhanced my understanding of agronomy and modern agricultural practices.

Beyond academics, the university encouraged extracurricular activities and leadership opportunities, fostering my overall personality development. The support and guidance from my professors played a crucial role in motivating me to pursue higher studies in Agronomy. I feel proud to be an alumnus of Jagan Nath University, Jaipur and I highly recommend it to aspiring students. The quality education, research-driven approach, and supportive faculty make it an ideal institution for anyone passionate about agriculture. I will always cherish the memories and lessons learned here as I continue my academic and professional journey.

Adv Hitankshi Bhatnagar Law (2021-2022)

Being an advocate to the society burdens you with a lot of responsibilities for providing justice to the common man. I am highly obliged that god has selected me to be in such a generous profession of serving the mankind. My dad used to be a lawyer and that's how I have copied his style, speaking skill and of course the drafting skill of being a great lawyer. I am writing to provide my support and endorsement to JIIMS, Jaipur. As the pioneer batch of JIIMS, Jaipur, I, along with my fellow classmates had the opportunity for tremendous learning and growth during the period of our LLM. I particularly want to thank the talented faculty of JIIMS, Jaipur, who acted as friends, mentors, and advisors providing us with the solid foundation to launch our professional careers. I am currently earning a sum of Rs. 50,000/- to Rs. 60,000/- per month. Presently, working in the Delhi High Court and all the district courts of New Delhi and Courts across India. Pleasing all the matters of Civil, Criminal, Matrimonial, Intellectual properties etc. my life goal is to achieve heights of present profession. My hobbies are to write poems, spend time with nature, cooking, etc. one thing I want to teach the upcoming law students is to "please learn law before entering the courts, and nothing in this entire world could stop you in getting the relief you want for your client." My best wishes to the School, faculty, alumni and its current students – may you continue to soar higher.

But I want to thank god for the same for letting me serve the society with my present skills and talents. I completely acknowledge and believe in JIIMS, Jaipur, for nurturing and growing talent and I want to thank my institute for giving me the opportunities to grow my skill set and create a potent mix of talent required to excel in today's world. I particularly want to thank the talented faculty of JIIMS, Jaipur, who acted as friends, mentors, and advisors providing us with the solid foundation to launch our professional careers. I am currently earning a sum of Rs. 75,000/- per month. Presently, working in the Delhi High Court and all the district courts of New Delhi and Courts across India. Pleasing all the matters of Civil, Criminal, Matrimonial, Intellectual properties etc. my life goal is to achieve heights of present profession. My hobbies are to play out door games, to cook and to spend time in leisure activities. One thing I want to teach the upcoming law students is to "be confident and work upon your speaking skills. Learn law to the best of your knowledge, as the person with incomplete knowledge is a peril in the society.." My best wishes to the School, faculty, alumni and its current students – may you continue to soar higher.

ALUMNI EXPERIENCE

Himanshu Chaudhary Advocate (2020-21) Bombay High Court

To be true I never thought of becoming a Lawyer, however the legal profession always fascinated me. As a Lawyer, I am graceful that with the help of legal knowledge and its offerings, we are able to give our clients advice and assist them to resolve the legal issues. Further it also helps with arbitration and other ADR mechanism; we attend the legal matters outside the courtroom realm and get the issues settled amicably among the parties. Lawyers are in a unique position to support people, groups, and organizations with their legal issues and to further the public good. We can say that lawyers are the traditional mass mouthpiece at the law court.

During my internship in Bombay in my 5year Law course at Ahmadabad, I got to know that the Lawyers in Bombay used to charge good fee per Hearing which will come to around Rs. 2 Lac to 5 Lacs per Case (Sometimes even 10 Lacs) for the entire case depending on the lawyer. Less than 50K is rare at Bombay High Court level mainly. Considering the starting perks in practising, I started practising Law at Bombay High Court and joined the Office of my College senior at Bombay. I had a notion in initial days of my practise in Mumbai that all lawyers make a lot of money, although that may be true provided you should have good knowledge and liaison skills. Now, I have started my independent practise in Bombay and making approx. 1 lacs in a month.

I would like to say that it is very pertinent to know before starting your professional career: How many hours would you like to work each week? How much money would you like to make? With practising law, I learned discipline in life interalia starting the day with bowing to the Hon'ble judges immediately after entering the courtroom and bow while leaving the court and then exit and also listening and observing the proceedings in the court room without making any noise.

Before step into practising law, you ask themselves certain questions to ensure that how you align your career goals in life and whether you are ready to give your time in reading books and marketing your skills. Subsequently, we have to nurture our beliefs in achieving professional goals with the conscience what type of individuals would you like to serve? How you are helping society for common good. As a lawyer, when we are presenting evidence and speaking in favour of your client and representing them in a criminal or civil court that in some will accomplish your professional goals. The thick heavy books, the bare acts, the case reporters and various legal databases give you the proud feeling of entering into an honourable field so different from the courses and degrees of your peers.

ALUMNI EXPERIENCE

Ayushi Bansal MBA (2017-19)

"My journey at Jagannath University, Jaipur, began with a mix of excitement and a little apprehension. I'd always been drawn to the world of business, and the MBA program seemed like the perfect launchpad. The sprawling campus, with its blend of architecture and green spaces, immediately felt welcoming.

One particularly memorable project was a market analysis we did for a local handicraft business. We had to conduct surveys, analyze data, and present our findings to the business owner. It was challenging, but the experience was invaluable. It was here, during the marketing related subjects, that I found my passion. The guest lectures from industry professionals were also incredibly insightful, giving us a glimpse into the corporate world. The university's career development cell was a lifeline during my final year. They helped us refine our resumes, practice for interviews, and connect with potential employers. I remember being nervous before my first campus placement interview, but the mock interviews and feedback I received from the cell boosted my confidence.

The campus life was vibrant and diverse. There were numerous cells, from the entrepreneurship cell to the R&D Cell. I participated in a few events, and it was a great way to meet people from different backgrounds and develop my soft skills.

Looking back, I realize how much I grew during my time at Jagannath University. It wasn't just about academics; it was about developing critical thinking, communication, and teamwork skills. The faculty was supportive, the curriculum was relevant, and the overall experience was enriching. I stepped out of Jagannath University, not just with a degree, but with a solid foundation and the confidence to pursue my career goals.

Poem on Jagannath university

Within Jaipur's walls, where knowledge gleams, Jagannath's halls, a student's vibrant dreams. A BBA's path, a journey's start,
With eager minds and open heart.

From lectures deep, to projects grand, A business world, we learned to understand. Case studies spun, and markets sought,
The seeds of skills, the future bought.

Professors' words, a guiding light, Through balance sheets, and market's fight. The campus hum, a lively sound, Where friendships bloomed, and wisdom found.

Through presentations bold, and teamwork's grace, We found our voice, and claimed our place. The career cell, a helping hand, To navigate the corporate land.

Though textbooks closed, and gowns put by, The lessons learned, will never die. Jagannath's name, a memory bright, A launchpad strong, to future's light.

So thank you, halls, for all you've given, For shaping dreams, and spirits driven. A BBA's heart, forever true, To Jagannath, and all of you.

BBA (2016-19)

Life at Jagannath University,

Dharmender Yadav BBA (2018-21)

Life at Jagannath, through a BBA student's eyes, was a whirlwind of deadlines, late-night study sessions fueled by chai, and surprisingly impactful moments of learning. It wasn't just about memorizing Porter's Five Forces or understanding balance sheets; it was about the chaotic, vibrant experience of navigating young adulthood within the university's walls.

The campus buzzing with energy as students rushed to class. The lecture halls, sometimes a bit too warm, filled with the drone of professors explaining complex economic theories. But then, there were those moments of clarity, when a concept clicked, and you felt a genuine spark of understanding.

The BBA program wasn't all theory. We were thrown into group projects, which often involved frantic brainstorming sessions and last-minute presentations. These projects, though stressful, taught us invaluable lessons in teamwork, communication, and time management. We'd argue, compromise, and somehow, always pull through, creating bonds that went beyond the classroom.

The campus itself became our second home. The canteen, with its endless supply of samosas and Maggi, was the hub of social life. We'd discuss everything from the latest Bollywood gossip to our career aspirations over steaming cups of tea. The lawns became our impromptu study spaces during exam season, and the sports grounds were where we'd blow off steam after a long day of lectures.

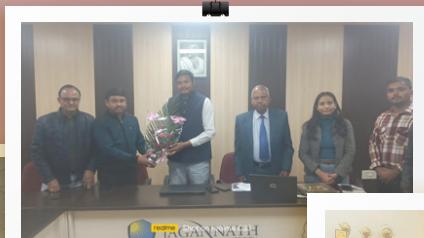

The career development cell was our lifeline during the final year. They'd organize workshops on resume writing and interview skills, and the mock interviews were both terrifying and incredibly helpful. The campus placements were a rollercoaster of emotions, filled with nervous anticipation and the occasional celebratory treat.

Beyond academics, there was the vibrant campus life. Cultural events, cell activities, and impromptu cricket matches filled our evenings and weekends. We learned to juggle academics, extracurriculars, and a social life, a skill that proved invaluable in the real world.

Jagannath wasn't just a university; it was a crucible where we forged friendships, discovered our passions, and learned to navigate the challenges of life. It was a chaotic, enriching, and ultimately, unforgettable experience. It was the place where we transitioned from students to young professionals, ready to take on the world, armed with a BBA degree and a whole lot of memories.
